

LAURA HARPER NAMED TO POSITION OF FIRST VICE PRESIDENT FOR NEW ENGLAND CHAPTER OF MFSA

Cites strong networking, improved processes through organization

North Andover, Mass., Feb. 15, 2008 – Laura Harper, president of North Andover, Mass.-based Fulfillment, Print & Mailing Solutions, Inc., has been named first vice president of the New England chapter of the Mailing & Fulfillment Service Association, the national trade association for the mailing and fulfillment service industry.

Harper, of Atkinson, N.H., said that the organization continues to service her and her peers very well.

“Many of the people I’ve met through the association have become great friends and allies both personally and through my company, FPMSI,” said Harper. “Like many members, I have come to rely on these friends nationwide and in Canada as a resource to help my business on a regular basis.”

Harper lauded the MFSA—based in Alexandria, Va.—for providing a number of services to its members, including sound legal advice, continued postal issues updates, and general process improvements.

For more than 80 years, MFSA has been working to improve the business environment for mailing services and fulfillment companies and to provide opportunities for the learning and professional development of the management of these companies. MFSA provides management education, employee training and business surveys unique to the industry; networking; instant postal information; other business news and individual help with technical, employee, and postal issues

Harper, who joined MFSA in 1997 and became a board member of the New England chapter in 2003, will assume the role of president of the New England chapter of MFSA in 2009. Kerry Hannify of Data-Mail, Inc., in Newington, Conn., currently serves as president.
